Your appeal rights

This notice explains what to do if you believe the enclosed decision on your CardioVita Patient Assistance Program application was wrong. Read it carefully — the appeal window is short and specific documents are required.

DEADLINE TO APPEAL

You have sixty (60) calendar days from the date on the enclosed denial letter to file a first-level appeal. Appeals received after that date will not be reviewed unless you can show a good-cause reason for the delay.

HOW TO FILE

- Write to Alderwood Appeals Coordinator, PO Box 42, Springfield, USA 00000.
- Include a copy of the enclosed denial letter (or the referral ID at the top of it).
- State clearly which part of the decision you disagree with and why.
- Attach any new evidence you'd like the reviewer to consider — updated income, clinical notes, prescriber statement, or proof of residency.

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

Your appeal will be reviewed by a coordinator who was not involved in the original decision. You will receive a written response within thirty (30) days of the date we receive your appeal. If we need more time we will notify you in writing before the deadline.

NEED HELP FILING?

Call the Alderwood Patient Support line at 1-877-555-0100. Coordinators are available Monday–Friday 8am–8pm ET and can guide you through the appeal process at no cost.

EXTERNAL REVIEW

If your first-level appeal is denied, you may request an external review by an independent panel. Instructions and forms will be included with the first-level appeal response.
